The chances now appear to be decidedly in favor of the President's recovery. His symptoms for the last 24 hours have been pretty steadily favorable, although some feverish appearances were a little disappointing to the more sanguing, and the expression of the attending physicians is, substantially, that the President will probably live. The swelling of the troublesome gland has at last begun to diminish, the stomach acts well, and the wound progresses favorably. The doctors now say that the President was very near death and of course do not farget, in giving their opinions, that he is still in a critical state. But there is all around good hope and growing confidence. Latest—Hope in the President's recovery is reviving. Latest dispatches indicate continued improvement. His mind is clear, indicating the possible elimination of the blood poisoning, his stomach retains solid food, the inflamed gland shows satisfactory improvement, pulse, temperature and respiration are greatly improved and every indication is promising. It is hoped that the cris's is passed and renewed confidence is apparent on all bands.

All these desirable things can be accomplished, but in one way only. The Creator has given both woman and man perfect polysical forms, and each is constitutionally equal to all natural demands. The three-quarter track on the farm at Tarrytown is very slow this year, owing to the fact that it was too heavily manured last spring, but a few days ago Convoy was given a two-mile trial over it, John Murphy in the sulky. The first mile was trotted in 2:23\frac{3}{4} and the second in 2:22, making a total of 4:45\frac{3}{4}. These letters are sacred, and cannot be given to the public, but they overwheimingly verify all the facts above stated. Nature has given woman a delicate, w deaful, alert instruct and she has found this remedy to be what her sex for years has needed, to restore and muntain the perfection of nature. She resconts the imputation that she is b- und to suffer all the life that at take the conditions are the conditions as the conditions and the properties of the day, thousands of women, in all parts of the land, owe their restored health and continued happiness to the womderful power for Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, Mr. Warrer has the written lestimony of hundreds of the best ladies, and to the women in all parts of the land, owe their restored health and continued happiness to the women in all parts of the land, owe their restored health and continued happiness to the women in the land enduates of the warner's Safe prove in the case of many well-known men tack her. The changeable character of our climate, the ofttimes exacting and enervating customs of society, of fashion and of necessity, all conspire to impair the vitality of women. If we add to these the exhausting duties of motherhood, and the mental auxiety for the success of her husband in all his andable ambitions which play upon her energies, is it surprising that thus burdened she shoul i break down under the physical strain? By no means—on the contrary the wonder is that she has maintained her physical strength as she has.

The women of America, both young and old, have greater opportunities to day than those of any land in any age. Their rights are more fully recognized, their privileges greater and their possibilities unlimited. They are permitted to enjoy if to this fullest extent, and to do this their bodies must be unimpared. I congraculate the women of this free land that the keenness of their perceptions has led them to discover their necessities and what will satisfy them. I congratulate them that they which have reaped the greatest benefts from the scientific researches of independent investigation, are to-day the most enthusiastic proclaimers of the merits of this great remedy of which I have spoken. The spirit of intolerance, I may say in conclusion, so rampant is this age of free investigation when all things are judged by what they are and not by what they seem, must eventually give way to the better, wiser, nobler liberality in which alone can be found true security true peace, true health and true happiness.

DIGEST OF SUPREME-COURT, DECISIONS 1. The treasurer of the board of school inspectors, and not the township treasurer, is the proper custodian of the township library money; and the latter officer, on proper demand, is bound to pay it over to the former, and is not entitled to withhold it until it is drawn by the inspectors as needed for specific appropriations; and mandamus will lie to enforce the performance of this duty. [McPharlin v. Mahoney, 30

Mich., 100. 2. It is a sufficient ground for an application for mandamus to enforce suc payment, that the township treasurer when an order was properly drawn on him by the inspectors for such money, but for an amount slightly in excess of the money in his hands, refused to pay over what he had, not upon the ground that the order was too large a sum, but upon the distinct assertion that he was himself the proper custodian of the funds, and was not bound to pay them over except as they were required by the inspectors for specific purposes.

3. Under the constitution and statutes, all moneys which are paid into the office of the county treasurer, on account of fines, penalties, forfeitures and recognizances, are to be credited to the library fund, and apportioned and paid over by the treasurer to the proper local officers, without any reduction for expen-ses, either attending the collection of the particular sums paid in, or embracing the general criminal expenses of the county. Thas been my good fortune to see many famous monuments of Europe and America, and I cheerfully say were I to purchase a monument now I should chose White Bronze. I have formed an opinion as to its durability from information which I deem reliable and I have no hesitancy in pronouncing it superior to marble or granite.

RESCUED FROM DEATH. The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkible that we beg to ask for it the attention of the readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a VIOLENT BLEEDING OF THE UNGS followed by a severe cough. I soon gan to lose my appetite and flesh. I was weak at one time I could not leave my d. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted the City Hospital. While there the doors said I had a hole in my left lung as big a half dollar. I expended over a hundred lars in doctors and medicines. I was so gone at one time a report went around at I was dead. I gave up hope, but a gone at one time a report went around at I was dead. I gave up hope, but a iend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam Or the Lungs. I laughed at my friend, ainking that my case was incurable, but I but a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surrise and satisfication, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

"I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that Consumption can be curred. I have that Consumption can be current. I have aken two bottles and can positively say that that done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared and I shall soon be able to go to work."
